PROJECTS

Bar Website — HTML, CSS, JS

A website for a home bar, located in Chicago. Users can browse a library of cocktail recipes, perform full-text searches of the library, and view the weekly menu. I built the recipe section using the MVC architecture. All components were built with vanilla JS. The styles were written in vanilla CSS and based on Figma design files.

Cocktail API — Node, Express, MongoDB

A RESTful API and server-side rendered website built with Node, Express, Mongoose, MongoDB and Pug. The application allows anyone to get recipe data (JSON) for recipes I created and stored in a MongoDB database on the Atlas platform. Registered users can login to add, modify, and delete recipe data.
