SELECTED PROJECTS

Daphne's Bar — React, Node, Express, MongoDB

A single page app created with React for a home bar, located in Chicago. Users can browse a library of cocktail recipes, filter by ingredient, search by tags and view the weekly menu. Administrators can add recipes, delete recipes and upload photos. The project was designed by my wife in Figma. The backend is an Express server with a MongoDB database.

Pomodoro app — React, Typescript, CSS, Vite

A 'pomodoro' timer app for increasing productivity and focus built it with CSS, React, Typescript, and Vite. Users can set a pomodoro timer as well as short and long break timers, customize the length of each timer, and see a circular progress bar that renders continuously.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Freelance classical singer, Self-employed, Chicago, IL

2013-present
